

JUNIOR DAUGHTERS OF THE KING meets this Tuesday evening at 7:00 in Block 32. The exact place of the meeting will be announced at the Church School tomorrow.

NEW HELPER

Miss Mary Fukemi, one of the recent arrivals from Tulelake, is now assisting Father Kitagawa as his office secretary.

ACKNOWLEDGE - MENTS

The Church of the Holy Apostles gratefully acknowledges a donation of Choir Edition Hymnals from the Church Periodical Club: 1 Joy St.; Cambridge, Mass.; also a birthday offering from Akiko Miyazaki.

GALA WELCOME PARTY HELD LAST SUNDAY EVENING

More than 140 people, including the guests, attended the Welcome Party held for the ex-Tulelans last Sunday night. The affable Dr. Paul Shigaya, just returned from a vacation with his family, served again as toastmaster and, following the opening prayer by Father Shoji, he extended a message of greetings.

After introducing the guests and old members, Miss Mary Tahara on behalf of the young people welcomed the former Tulelans into our fellowship. Mr. Frank Watanabe returned the thanks.

Special treat of the evening were the musical numbers. Miss Teruko Akagi gave two violin numbers with Jeanne Kanno accompanying on the piano. Miss Fumiko Yabe, formerly of Sacramento, gave a vocal solo with Hope Ohashi's accompaniment. And Dorothy Tahara gave a piano solo.

Mr. Frank Watanabe showed some interesting moving pictures, and this was followed by refreshments and tea prepared by the ladies of the Church.

The party was closed at 10:20 with Father Kitagawa giving the benediction.

Guests present were Mrs. Hirai, Mrs. Michiko Watanabe, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Nanbo, Mrs. Fukami, Frank Watanabe, Hazel Kusachi, Joyce Kusachi, Fumi Matsumoto, Michiko Matsumoto, Toshi Matsumoto, Shigoru Matsumoto, Tadashi Matsumoto.

Other guests were Mary Shigaya, Fusa Shigaya, Fumiko Yabe, Shinichi Watanabe, Sutoko Sakuma, Mary Tsuchikawa, Tokiyuki Aeki, Kinuko Watanabe, Mary Fukami, Yoshiko Nakatsu, Lucille Nitta, Rosie Hirakake, Mr. Taniguchi, Miss Kudo, and Kiyo Kuge.

Expected but didn't come were Chiyoko Arai, Miko Takatsuki, Mr. and Mrs. Koji Dorikane, Rosie Hirakatsu, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Nishimoto, Mr. K. Kaji, and Mr. and Mrs. M. Nakata.

THE COLLECT

16th Sunday after Trinity

O Lord, we beseech thee, let thy continual pity cleanse and defend thy Church; and, because it cannot continue in safety without thy succour, preserve it evermore by thy help and goodness; through Jesus Christ our Lord.

Amen.

MAIL BAG

From Alice Uchida now at Kenosha, Wisconsin: At Chicago we were met by Sister Bianca and a Miss Maki. Since Mabel was train-sick Miss Maki took her to St. Mary's Home in Chicago, and I came to Kemper Hall with Sister Bianca. Since I was so tired they let me sleep in the dispensary after I reached Kemper Hall. That was around 3:30 on Friday. I slept until 5:00, and at dinner the girls sang "How-do-you-do" to me. These girls and I made friends that very night. All the girls here are awfully nice and friendly. . . . Mabel and I share a room, and we have a double-decker bed. Sometimes Mabel and I talk of "good old days" in Hunt and get slightly homesick, but usually we're okay. We have loads of fun with the rest of the girls here.

Mabel Sato also writes from Kenosha, Wisconsin: Kemper Hall, "The Mother," Sisters and the girls are wonderful! Not a word of the war is mentioned when we are around. One good thing about the strictly timed day is that we don't have a chance to get homesick. All you see are girls rushing all around, hoping they won't be late for a class. Besides being wonderful, Kemper Hall is beautiful since it has Lake Michigan right in front of our noses, and the campus is covered with huge trees, green lawns and gardens. I still can't believe I'm here!

George Okita writes in an encouraging vein about his new life: I have been here in Cincinnati exactly a week now, and I am gradually getting adjusted to my new relocated life. I find the people very tolerant and friendly. Of course there are people who give you a second look as you walk down the street, but that's to be expected as it may have been the first time they ever saw a Japanese. The town itself is rather old with the downtown streets being so narrow that they are used for one-way traffic only. However, many of the residential districts are very pretty with beautiful trees growing in front of stately homes. . . . I have now been in school for three days, and I feel that this is the thing I have wanted to do; get to know myself and the world about me. I believe I have some very good instructors so I should get quite a lot learned. . . . I have met many of my Minidoka friends out here, and they all seem to be making out all right, which is a very good sign of definite relocation.

George Kakohashi writes from Monticello, Tennessee: A few weeks ago I went to Nashville to do some shopping. I called on May Zukoji, a Portland girl whom I met back in the center and who is now working in the Methodist Church Office in Nashville. Had dinner with her, her boss, and a former student of this school. Had an enjoyable evening talking about the center life and the pre-evacuation days. Discussed about relocation, but we both agreed that though we personally would like to see more Niseis nearby, the South was no place for relocation. . . . Shiugi is down in Dothan, Alabama guarding the German prisoners-of-war who were sent there to gather the peanut crop.

Father Robert M. Muir of Ann Arbor, Michigan tells how the churches in his community have been helping to ease the problems of resettlement: As you know, there is an Army school of Japanese language at the U. of Michigan of which most of the teachers are themselves Japanese. Messers, Yamagiwa and Sano, the two heads of the department, are both Episcopalians and it has been my good fortune to become good friends with Mr. Sano in learning some of their problems and aspirations. The Rev. Andrew Kuroda has organized the group in Ann Arbor by appealing to the various churches which have responded one way or another. Now that the group has circulated all the churches, they have nowhere to spend their Saturday evenings and are somewhat timid about approaching them to extend hospitality the second time. And so Dr. Lewis and I dimly realized that here was an opportunity to help the Japanese People at least in some small way. We offered St. Andrew's to Mr. Kuroda for discussion meetings, dances, games, and worship.
